“Father the hour has come; glorify your Son so that the Son may glorify You, since You have given Him authority over all people, to give eternal life to all whom You have given Him. And this is eternal life, that they may know You, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom You have sent.”

Gospel Reflection

Traditionally, the four writers of the Gospels are symbolized by four creatures that make their way into Church art and architecture: Matthew, an angel; Mark, a lion; Luke, an ox; and John, an eagle. These images can be found in churches across the world, a nod to those who recorded the stories of Jesus for us, thousands of years ago.

Today's Gospel was written by John. There are a few reasons why John is symbolized by an eagle, but my favorite explanation is that his writings soar like an eagle into the sky with their beautiful, poetic language. The prayer we hear today is no different — Jesus invokes God in a long discourse that might seem mystifying at times, the same way that a poem can be perplexing to understand when we are unfamiliar with the pacing or format.

Consider holding onto the shortest sentence in this prayer: "I pray for them." Jesus prays for us. For me. For you. Let that sink deep into your being.

Jesus is on your side. He is aware of what you are holding at this moment. He is aware of your pain, your faith, your mission. And He's rooting for you. This prayer was recorded thousands of years ago, far before you were born. Since before you were born, you were held in prayer. With that certainty, we live.

Notice of Office Changes

Due to the Diocese change from our current parishioner database to the new engagement software ParishStaq, which includes PushPay (offers using credit cards to make donations or payments), there will be several office closures to aid in the volume of work required for the change over. The parish office will be closed to the public Monday, June 12, Tuesday June 13, and Thursday June 15 and the week of June 19-23. We apologize for any inconvenience.

During this time of transition we will also be combining some weekly bulletins into a 2 week format. The May 28 and June 4 bulletin will be combined into one. The printed bulletin will still be available at all Masses on those weekends. Any information to be printed in either of these bulletins will need to be submitted to the parish office no later than Friday, May 19th.
